DAILY CURRENT AFFAIRS

18 May 2022

World AIDS Vaccine Day

- World AIDS Vaccine Day, also known as HIV Vaccine Awareness Day, is observed annually on May 18.
- HIV vaccine advocates mark the day by promoting the continued urgent need for a vaccine to prevent HIV infection and AIDS.
- They acknowledge and thank the thousands of volunteers, community members, health professionals, supporters, and scientists who are working together to find a safe and effective AIDS vaccine and urge the international community to recognize the importance of investing in new technologies as a critical element of a comprehensive response to the HIV/AIDS epidemic.
- The concept of World AIDS Vaccine Day is rooted in a May 18, 1997, commencement speech at Morgan State University made by then-President Bill Clinton. Clinton challenged the world to set new goals in the emerging age of science and technology and develop an AIDS vaccine within the next decade stating, "Only a truly effective, preventive HIV vaccine can limit and eventually eliminate the threat of AIDS."
- The first World AIDS Vaccine Day was observed on May 18, 1998, to commemorate the anniversary of Clinton's speech, and the tradition continues today.

International Museum Day

- International Museum Day (IMD) is an international day held annually on or around 18 May, coordinated by the International Council of Museums (ICOM). The event highlights a specific theme that changes every year reflecting a relevant theme or issue facing museums internationally.
- IMD provides the opportunity for museum professionals to meet the public and alert them as to the challenges that museums face and raise public awareness on the role museums play in the development of society. It also promotes dialogue between museum professionals.
- Theme 2022 – The Power of Museums
