- The nation is the first to advance such a move in South-East Asia, a region known for its stringent drug laws.
- Thailand, with its year-round tropical climate, has long had a history with Cannabis which many locals commonly used in traditional medicines.
- The goal is to get a head start on its neighbors in winning a large slice of the lucrative market for health treatments using cannabis derivatives, in particular the milder compound CBD (Cannabidiol). But there is another motive, for reducing overcrowding in some of the world's most overcrowded jails.
- This means, in theory, that with the cultivation of the plant in any quantities now completely legalized, the police are now unlikely to arrest people just for possession of marijuana.
