Airbus CEO Meets With Prime Minister Modi

- On Wednesday, December 21, Airbus CEO Guillaume Faury met with PM Modi and discussed various ways to make the country 'Aatmanirbhar Bharat'.
- In October of this year, Prime Minister Narendra Modi laid the foundation stone for the C295 aircraft manufacturing facility, the country's first aircraft manufacturing facility in the private sector, as part of the 'Aatmanirbhar Bharat' and 'Make in India' policies in the defence sector.
- Guillaume Faury stated on this particular occasion, "We are honoured to be a part of this historic moment in Indian aerospace. Our Airbus teams are committed to helping the Indian Air Force modernise through the C295 programme, which will also help the country's private defence manufacturing sector grow."
- The meeting between the world's largest civil planemaker and the leader of the world's fastest growing airline market also coincides with a potentially huge Air India jet purchase, though industry sources said this was not the main focus of the visit.

- Air India is in the advanced stages of negotiating a major fleet renewal and expansion under new owner Tata Group that industry sources say could involve 250 Airbus jets including 200-210 A320neo-family jets and over three dozen A350s.
- Airbus also hopes to secure a new home at Air India for six A350s originally earmarked for Russia's Aeroflot, though it remains unclear whether these are included in the main order.
- Air India is also close to a deal to buy some 190 Boeing 737 MAX jets and 30 of its 787 Dreamliners as part of the same package potentially close to 500 aircraft, Reuters reported last week. The deal could also involve a handful of larger 777X jets.
